

In year 3 and 4 we spent our computing lesson learning about internet safety. We thought about how different messages online might make us feel and what to do if someone made us upset or worried online. We then made posters to show what we needed to do to make the internet safe for us to use.

