

Key Stage 1 Science – Autumn Term

In science this half term we have been learning about animals, including humans. So far, we have explored the different parts of the human body and discussed what they are used for. We have looked closely at the 5 senses and carried out investigations involving these such as taste tests. The children have enjoyed this topic and so we completed some independent writing during our English sessions. The children chose their favourite body part and explained why they chose this. Here are some examples of our work.

Tuesday 24th January 2017
 Science LO: I can recognise and name the different parts of the body, explaining why each part is important.
 English LO: I am beginning to use the correct punctuation when writing a simple sentence.

6- You have used punctuation correctly. Brilliant spelling too.

The best part of my body is my eyes.

They help me to see.

My eyes help me to see beautiful things.

My eyes help me to see my grand - My eyes help me to see what I am going.

going going going going

Tuesday 24th January 2017
 Science LO: I can recognise and name the different parts of the body, explaining why each part is important.
 English LO: I am beginning to use the correct punctuation when writing a simple sentence.

The best part of me is my mouth because I can talk to my friends.

can can can can

Well done Jake. You have very clear finger spaces.

Tuesday 24th January 2017
 Science LO: I can recognise and name the different parts of the body, explaining why each part is important.
 English LO: I am beginning to use the correct punctuation when writing a simple sentence.

The best part of my body is my legs because they help me to play football.

they they they they

Well done Logan, you have used sounds you know to spell independently.