

Attendance

The image shows a green bulletin board with a white scalloped border. At the top, the word "Attendance" is written in large, red, star-patterned letters. Below it, the phrase "who will get the star" is written in the same style. In the center, there is a vertical column of colorful stars (blue, yellow, red, green, purple) on a white background. To the left and right of this column are four attendance charts, each with a grid and a header. At the bottom, there are four glass jars with labels: "Class 9", "Class 10", "Class 8" (which has a blue star on its front), and "Class 7". The phrase "in the jar" is written in red, star-patterned letters across the jars.
